To:	Beth Balderston <info@cervicalcanceraction.org>
From:	Cervical Cancer Action
From Email:	info@cervicalcanceraction.org
Subject:	CCA Report Card launched at United Nations
Preheader:

Trouble viewing this email? Read it online

Cervical Cancer Action News Brief | April 2011
News and views of interest to our community

CCA report card launched at United Nations

The Cervical Cancer Action coalition is pleased to announce the publication of Progress in Cervical Cancer Prevention: The CCA Report Card.

The report card, launched on April 13 during the 44th Session of the United Nations Commission on Population and Development, documents global progress in low- and middle-income countries over the past decade to fight cervical cancer using new, proven, and cost-effective approaches.

The main message of the report: we know we can do it, we know how to do it, and now is the time to make it happen!

Watch the video

South-South News, CCA's media partner for the event, has posted a five-minute video, Malawi and CARICOM Fight to Beat Women's Cancers.

Her Excellency Madam Mutharika, First Lady of Malawi (pictured second from left), was a special guest speaker at the UN event.

Thanks to the American Cancer Society and the Malawi Mission to the United Nations for making the link with South-South News!

Coming soon: CCA webinar on raising global resources for cervical cancer

Stay tuned for announcement of a CCA webinar on strategies for putting the Report's recommendations into action and ensuring that cervical cancer prevention and treatment are prioritized at the September 2011 United Nations High-level Meeting on Non-communicable Diseases (NCDs). A key "ask" from CCA is that the Outcomes Document produced by the high-level meeting highlight cervical cancer and breast cancer as examples of two NCDs on which we can make a real impact now, with existing technologies and increased political will.

info@cervicalcanceraction.org | www.cervicalcanceraction.org