Please sign the Cervical Cancer Call to Action!

This morning at the Global Forum on Cervical Cancer Prevention in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, a group of international organizations launched the Call for Universal Access to Cervical Cancer Prevention. The call seeks to build momentum for the uptake of HPV vaccines and screening and treatment tools. Please take a moment to read the call and consider signing on as an individual or for your organization (or both!).

Webcast from the Global Forum

The Global Forum organized a live webcast of its opening and closing plenaries. The live event has concluded, but the Forum archived the files for viewing at your convenience. Speakers include: Dr. Seth Berkley, CEO, GAVI Alliance; Ms. Genevieve Sambhi, Cervical Cancer Survivor; Ambassador, Power Over Cervical Cancer; Mrs. Graça Machel, Foundation for Community Development and Graca Machel Trust; Mr. Yuvraj Singh, Cancer Survivor, Indian Cricketer; Dr. Felicia Knaul, Director, Harvard Global Equity Initiative; Dr. Christine Kaseba-Sata, First Lady, Zambia; and Dr. Awa Marie Coll-Seck, Minister of Health, Senegal, among others.

Cervical Cancer Action maps updated

Cervical Cancer Action's popular maps showing the rollout of visual inspection with acetic acid (VIA), HPV DNA screening, and HPV vaccination have been updated based on the latest data from the GAVI Alliance and other sources

- Global Progress in Visual Inspection for Cervical Cancer Screening
- Global Progress in HPV DNA Testing for Cervical Cancer Screening
- Global Progress in HPV Vaccination

New Cervical Cancer Prevention: Practical Experience Series publications

PATH's Cervical Cancer Prevention: Practical Experience Series has been expanded to five units. The fourth and fifth titles now are available for free online:

- Cervical Cancer Screening and Treatment in Low-Resource Settings
- Evaluating HPV Vaccination Pilots

This series presents important, practical lessons from cervical cancer prevention programs in low-resource settings and links readers with key documents, tools, and multimedia relevant to the theme of each module.

Previously published units:

- Strategic Planning and Situation Assessment for Cervical Cancer Prevention
  - Conducting Formative Research for HPV Vaccination Program Planning
  - Implementing HPV Vaccination Programs
