Visual inspection and cryotherapy course in Lima March 23–27

The Network of Latin American Cancer Institutes (RINC) will host a course on visual inspection with acetic acid (VIA) and cryotherapy on March 23–27 in Lima, Peru for health care professionals in the Latin American region. A limited number of travel scholarships are available, in particular for providers working in semi-urban and rural health care centers. For more information, contact Walter Zoss, RINC Executive Secretary.

Results of Nicaragua screening and treatment efforts

CCA partner, Grounds for Health, recently published "Results and Lessons Learned from the Grounds for Health Program in Nicaragua: A Community-Based Public-Private Model for Addressing Cervical Cancer". The paper describes VIA and cryotherapy demonstration projects carried out in collaboration with local health authorities and coffee cooperatives in northern Nicaragua between 2007 and 2014. The paper is available in both English and Spanish.
